Notice: The granite cutters' office will be open on Thursday evening, Oct. 11, and will be closed on Friday evening, Oct. 12. Per order committee.

Mrs. James S. Milne of Liberty street has returned from an extended visit with relatives in New Haven, Conn., Kingston, N. Y., and New York city.

A whist party will be held Wednesday evening in K. of C. hall under the auspices of the L. A. A. O. H. The public is cordially invited. Admission, 10c.—adv.

The dancing assembly which Barre council Knights of Columbus, had planned as an observance of Columbus day Friday evening, has been postponed because of a previous engagement of the hall.

People who have fared into the woods this fall bear witness to an unusually large crop of hickories and lately much of the squirrel food has found its way into attics about town. One day this week a man who traveled along the west hill ridge gathered seven bushels of butternuts within a few hours.

Women who think of health and comfort and also insist upon authentic style will find all three ideally embodied in the "La Camille" front-lace corset. Remember, we carry in stock one of the most complete lines of front-lace corsets to be found this side of Boston. Prices from $2 up to $25. Mrs. Emma Waterman, Corsetiere, 91 State street, Montpelier.

A committee from the Central Labor union has waited upon the city council with an invitation to attend in a body the meeting at the opera house Friday evening, when James Duncan is to speak on "The Soul of Russia." The invitation has been accepted unanimously and Mayor Glysson, City Clerk Mackay and the aldermen will be accorded guests' seats when the mass meeting gets under way.

Rev. Canon J. P. L. Pauze of Holy Cross college, Quebec, who have been passing several days in the city as the guests of Dr. and Mrs. E. X. Z. Archambault of Merchant street, have returned to their homes, after coming to Vermont to attend the golden anniversary of Mother Renaud at Fanny Allen hospital in Winooski last week.

Applications for enrollment in the Barre evening drawing school last evening indicate that the registration to-night will be well up to that of former years, albeit, for the time-being, students under 16 will not be permitted to attend. Charles Pampfer of the faculty was in the Mathewson school building last night to meet prospective students, and this evening, when sessions are resumed for the year, the entire faculty will be present.

Plans for the erection of a new dwelling property on his Willey street extension property have been completed by S. D. Sibley, whose property has been the subject of considerable discussion by the city council. The Sibley family plans to detach its residence from the second story of a building used as a barn and will be domiciled in a new house immediately upon its completion. Mr. Sibley, contemplating somewhat sweeping changes on the premises, has applied for and obtained from the council a permit to erect a dwelling house which shall have lateral dimensions of 24 feet, with broad piazzas on the front and at the rear. His plans also include alterations to the barn. The new house will be located nearly 150 feet from the barn.

Among the guests arriving at Hotel Barre last night and this morning were the following people: Walter Hoy of Burlington, James Downs of Lockport, N. Y., Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Fuller of Boston, W. F. Hendee, Andrew Charland, Alick J. Hebert of Burlington, Miss M. Ella Bunce of Montclair, N. J., Miss Jennie Whyte of Jersey City, George T. Whyte of New York, B. A. Stevens of Essex, H. S. Ballou, Jr., of Boston, John Laing of Springfield, Dr. R. L. Martineau of Boston, J. A. Rodgers of Burlington, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Dane of Worcester, Mass., Mrs. E. F. Norris of Princeton, N. J., B. B. Whalen of Burlington, W. H. Davis of Boston, H. C. Beaulieu of Providence, N. J., Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Scott of Lowell, Mass., Mr. and Mrs. Ross Noble of Boston.

After investigating recommendations made by those in charge of the paving project, the city council, acting as a committee of the whole has decided to go the whole way in the matter of sidewalk construction on South Main street.

Plans for street improvement in the south end originally contemplated a sidewalk of cement on the east side of the thoroughfare, as it was thought that the substitution of cement for a badly cracked concrete walk on the opposite side might be postponed. After looking over the situation, however, the city fathers are convinced that curbing and sidewalk building can be done more economically this year and to that end, Contractor Gregware, who has made an excellent job of the west side walk, will be commissioned to the task of repeating on the east side. Hydrant locations have been determined and the work will be gotten under way at once. Excavation of the east side of the street was started this week. The contractor's gangs worked Sunday.
